

WHAT WILL YOUR LIFE LOOK LIKE IN 15 YEARS?

15 years from now you'll reach the normal retirement age of 65 in the RSP Section of the Morrisons Retirement Saver Plan (RSP Section).

Wouldn't it be great to plan ahead for this next phase of life and know you're well prepared for it?

You might have already started planning for your retirement, but don't worry if you haven't - knowing more about what you can do now and what will happen next will mean you're better prepared for the future.

It's easy to forget about your pension but it's hard to make any plans or decisions about your retirement without it.

If you start planning for your retirement now, you'll feel better prepared when the time comes, knowing exactly what you've got.

So, follow these three steps and start planning for your future.

Check what you've got

You can see your pension pot in the RSP Section on OneView.

To check how much you've got, visit the Morrisons website, select the Retirement Saver Plan (RSP).

From there you can log in using your username and password.

If you've logged in before but can't remember your username and password, you can re-set your password or get a reminder of your username by clicking on the 'Unable to login' link.

If you've not logged in before or have any problems, call Aptia on 0345 450 6564 and they'll be able to help.

Your State Pension

Currently for 2024/2025 the maximum full State Pension is £11,541.90 a year. The maximum full State Pension for 2025/2026 is rising by 4.1% in April 2025. This means that the maximum amount you could receive is £12,016.75 per year.

Don't forget you've probably got other savings and income that you might want to consider, including:

- → The Aviva scheme, if you're currently working for Morrisons or if you've paid into the scheme in the past.
- → Any other workplace pensions you may have.
- → Your State Pension, which can really boost your income in retirement.
- → Any other savings, investments, or income from working.

Understanding all the pensions savings and income that you have, will give you a more accurate overview of your full retirement savings.

Think about when you'd like to retire

The RSP Section's normal retirement age is 65. However, you can choose to take your pension pot:

- → As early as age 55
- → Or later than 65

If you retire earlier than 65 your pension pot will be reduced because you'll be taking your pension savings earlier than the RSP Section's normal retirement age. If you retire after 65, your pension pot will be more as it will normally be increased in line with inflation.

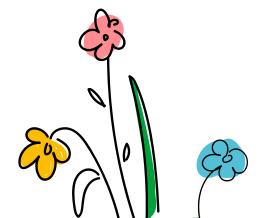

Your State Pension Age

Although you can currently start to take your RSP Section's pension from age 55, you can't draw your State Pension until your State Pension Age.

The State Pension Age for both men and women has been gradually increasing and reached age 66 in October 2020. The Government is planning to raise the State Pension age again to 67 for everyone by 2028.

Think about what retirement means for you

'Retirement' means different things to different people. Now's the time to start to think about the future you want and what retirement means for you.

Taking your pension from the RSP Section's doesn't mean you have to stop working, if you don't want to.

You could choose to continue working after you've taken your pension, or you might want to consider reducing your working hours.

It's important to remember though, that you're taxed on your pension income just like your earnings. So, make sure you consider how much tax you'll be paying before making a decision.

How much will you need for the retirement that is right for you?

There's lots of help and information on the Government backed website MoneyHelper to help you consider your options.

You can look at the online check list which helps you to:

- → Work out how much you might need in retirement
- → Look at how much you are likely to get
- → Consider your options
- → Make a retirement plan
- → Think about what to do next
- You can also use the online tools including a pension calculator to help you see how much you might get. Visit MoneyHelper 'Pensions and retirement'.
